Making His Renown in Student Life

FRESH FACES

As the 2005-2006 year began it was a time of excitement for all students. Freshmen were entering a new experience and excited for what the year would bring. Sophomores were no longer the younger ones and their prize was the late key that let them in past midnight on weekdays and 1 am on weekends. Juniors were living off campus for the first time and had the joys of an apartment of their own. Seniors were beginning their last year and getting ready to leave the college experience behind. The year would have a lot of joy and excitement, and this is where it all began.

Tyler Harkness, Andy Fenton, Kahla Atherton, and Tyler Branine wait their turn in line to bat at the faculty/staff vs. student softball game.

BARN PARTY

A kickin' up your heels good time! This year's annual Barn Party took place at the Swihart's barn and was full of frightening fun and flavor. The Student Activities Committee made this night memorable with all of their hard work. "Heaven and Hell" split the barn right down the middle with out of this world decorations. There was an awesome snack table and a camp fire for smores too! Events included the Bloody Chubby Bunny Contest as well as costume contests. Winners included, most adorable by Josh Tedder, most creative by Denise Meyer, worst dressed by Zac Johnson and best dressed by Sarah Davis. What a memorable monster mash!

WINTER BANQUET

The 2005 Winter Banquet featured a masquerade theme at Flint Hills Christian School. MCC students showed off their creativity by adorning their faces with masks. While getting ready is half the fun, or at least for the girls, students had a great time dancing the night away. A live band, Farewell to Ashlyn, was featured for entertainment and dinner was catered by Valentino's. It wasn't the pizza and lasagna that made the night memorable. With decorations set to the theme, thanks to the Student Activities Committee, the mood was set. Date or no date, this dance was great!

SKIP DAY

A special day of spring that MCC students look forward to is Skip Day: classes are cancelled, Coffin Hall is empty and everyone can join together for a fun break. Starting off the morning was worship at the Bell Tower led by Brandi Davis and Dustin Patrick. There was basketball and volleyball tournaments that followed. When students weren't playing, they cheered on the teams, played ladder golf or took a ride on the slip and slide. There was a barbecue for lunch with ribs, hamburgers and hotdogs. After a break in the afternoon for a nap or fun at the rope swing, the annual luau was held with catering by Pat's Blue Ribbon at Manhattan's own beach. Students and faculty gathered around the bonfire as the sky turned dark and the stars came out. It was a great way to end skip day!

SPRING BANQUET

It was a surprise for many that the Spring Banquet would be held in the Campus Center this year, but with the help of the Junior Class it turned out to be a success. Decorating took place on Friday afternoon, with the dinner and dance to begin later that evening. Mongolian Bar-beque catered the dinner and Kasey Guinty was the D.J. for the night. During the banquet, three awards were given to six deserving students. The Servant's Heart Award was given to Jen Miller and Craig Patrick. The Young Crusader Award was given to Kallie Pennel and Josh Woodard, and the President's Award was given to Kahla Atherton and Luke Wright.

KERUSSO DAYZ

Spring break is the best time for college kids to hit the beach, get a tan, and spend some time catting up on some much needed R&R. Or at least that's what it is for if you haven't dedicated your week off to working, building and traveling across the country for Jesus. That is what this year's Kerusso Dayz trip was all about, serving God, one locale at a time. This year we had students travel all around the midwest; one team even hit one of the biggest spring-break hot spots... Mexico. But these trips were much more than getting out and having fun, it was a chance to spread the love of Christ. Kerruso Dayz traveled to Joplin, St. Louis, New Orleans, and Sonoita Mexico.

KERUSSO DAYZ

This year saw the first Kerusso Dayz: Community. This was one more opportunity for MCC to reach out to the people we see most often, the people of Manhattan. Students worked with the Aggieville Business Association, American Red Cross, Big Brothers & Big Sisters, Big Lakes Developmental Center, Central Kansas Youth For Christ, Flint Hills Breadbasket, Flint Hills Christian School, Kansas State University Student Union, Manhattan City Parks & Recreation, Manhattan Emergency Shelter, Mercy Regional Health Center, Oasis Conference, Olsburg Community Swimming Pool, Salvation Army, and Tuttle Creek State Park.

KERUSSO DAYZ

This year was the first ever Kerusso Dayz: International. During a time when most students are enjoying the holidays and spending time with families twelve students along with Eric Sanford took a trip to what seemed to them, a whole new world. These thirteen had the amazing experience of going to Santiago, Chile in South America. While there they teamed up with a local church, El Faro, and did some outreach events. They also worked with a youth care center, El Casa de Esperanza, the House of Hope. El Casa de Esperanza is a wonderful organization that takes care of at risk children, feeding them and educating them, both academically and biblically.

DIFFERENT VIEW

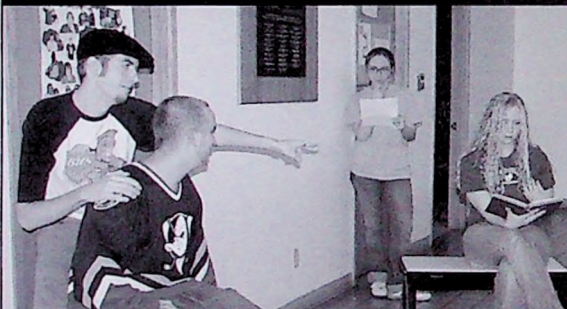

Students at Manhattan Christian College have the opportunity to take part in several different ministries. Two of these Student Led Ministries are A Different View, led by Juniors Kayla Campbell and Dustin Dick and Unspoken Message, led by Junior Beth Knetter. Both of these teams performed several times throughout the year. Faculty and Staff had the opportunity to watch both of these groups perform at the Faculty/Staff Appreciation dinner called "A Night With the Stars." A few of the pieces the drama team performed throughout the semester were Women's Bible Study, Hypocrisy, The Woodsman, Baby, Silence is Golden, and Bomb Squad. One of the highlights for Unspoken Message was performing at the National Missionary Convention.

During the Fall semester a ministry fair is held so students can see what ministries are available for them to participate in. Two of those ministries are Late Night and Nursing Home. Late Night was led by Dustin Patrick, Tyson Kinzle, Brittany Crum, Josh Veillon, Greg Voge, and Will Heck. Tyson said, "Late Night is one of the best ways to get involved with other students while still having fun with kids and other people." The nursing home team visited Meadowlark Hills on Tuesdays and Saturdays. The students who visited the nursing homes were blessed by the one-on-one relationships they were able to build with those who lived in the home.

C HAPEL

Every Tuesday and Thursday morning at eleven o'clock, over a hundred students crowd into the oldest building on the MCC campus: Jolliffe Hall. Jolliffe Hall was the first building of the MCC campus and it stays in use with the students traipsing through it at least twice a week. A typical service in the usually packed chapel starts with singing led by a worship band which sets the mood of the service as the students come together to worship God as a body of believers. During Thursday's service, an offering is taken up to support a mission or concern of the student body, which is followed by a speaker presenting a short sermon.

EVENT STAFF

The Event Staff ministry reaches out to junior high and high school students in a variety of ways. This team is selected by the Admissions Department every year. Their purpose being to serve the college by traveling to churches and assisting with on-campus events. The Event Staff's main focus is the outreach to the many youth across the United States, that brings hundreds of students to the Manhattan Christian College campus. That outreach event is known as Oasis. During Oasis the team helps out with things such as class sessions for the students and activities for the weekend. The Event Staff dives in with the youth and makes the most out of the event.

CAMP TEAM

The Camp Team for 2006 has the responsibility to carry on the formula for success that many teams have carried out before them. That formula consists of four factors to be represented and fulfilled by each member of each team. Those factors are:

1. To share the Lord.
2. To strengthen relationships for the Lord.
3. To serve in any way possible.
4. To encourage those around you.

Manhattan Christian College has been sending out Camp Teams since the summer of 1985. The students have been through preparation, training, prayer, and team bonding.

All you need now Will Heck, team captain, is sunscreen and you will be set for the summer.

KENoyer HALL

Living in the dorms is one of the most exciting things about going to college. There is always someone there to help you with homework, and you feel like you will never have to rent a movie again because there is always someone to borrow from. Friendships are made and continue to grow, especially when living with so many other girls. Just because freshmen had curfew at twelve on weeknights didn't mean that the dorms were quiet. There was always someone to talk to, and always something to do. Dorm devotions on Monday nights gave all the girls a chance to get together in fellowship and worship and understand what was going on in each other's lives.

JOHNSON HALL

This year at Johnson Hall was crazy and some might say a little bit out of control. But one thing that everyone can agree on is that it was a great year. The year was made even better by RA planned events, dorm devotions, and an overall union that encompassed our place of residence this year. Overall, MCC has made Johnson Hall an enjoyable place to be as well as a great place to grow; with great RA's and a great dorm supervisor, this year living in Johnson Hall was simply awesome. Most wouldn't trade it for anything.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

The campus this year has been full of excitement. From Bingo Night to Card Night inside the Campus Center to Tournament Days, Picture Scavenger Hunt and Break Away outside the Campus Center. There was a lot of competition stirred up amongst the students that led to good times and fun fellowship. Students discovered as the year went on that the more they stayed on the campus, the closer they got with other students. When students start to develop closer friendships and tighter bonds, the feeling of home started to set in. They could feel the love that MCC is all about while playing cards or just shooting some hoops together.

A CADEMICS

If you lived in Manhattan, Kansas, where would you go to study for those strenuous classes? We took a poll and students said that some of their places to study most were definitely outside the dorms. Some underclassmen decide to go to the upperclassmen houses, while others, including upperclassmen enjoy studying at Hale Library on the K-State Campus. Some find it easy to get some studying done in a group while enjoying coffee at a local coffeehouse, such as Java, the ultimate favorite, or even Radina's. Though Manhattan is not the biggest city in the United States, students seem to manage to get their homework finished.

LEAD PROGRAM

The LEAD Degree Completion Program

was established in 1994 by Manhattan Christian College. The development of such a program allows busy adults to finish their education by attending class one night a week. These classes are tailored to the learning needs of adults who are usually employed full-time. This program is designed to help those who have started their education and had to put their education aside or on hold due to finances, work, family or other obligations.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Woman's World was designed to encourage women in their spiritual journeys. The event includes practical workshops, meals, worship services, and a keynote speaker. Kathy Slamp was the keynote speaker this year. Slamp spoke three times throughout the conference. The theme of Woman's World 2006 was "If the Shoe Fits." Each woman was given a pedometer to go along with the theme, a poem card, and a night shirt. According to Jolene Rupe, who organizes much of the conference each year, "It takes lots and lots of volunteers to do it!" She added that the goal of the conference was to "encourage the women to find their area of giftedness and go do it."

WOMEN'S SOCCER

The Women's Soccer team serenaded the crowd with the Alma Mater. Amanda Kehler races her opponent to the ball. Nicole Sauer gives the ball a kick. Lauren James kicks the ball into play.

The Women's Soccer team is on the rise. That's the word on campus, and we're all seeing it as the team continues to show progress with every game. Whether it be in loss or victory, our ladies are taking the field and learning something from it every time. The MCC Women's Soccer team have been doing a fantastic job at representing what we hold dear as far as values, teamwork, and morals. They continue to astonish the school with their continued effort towards the final goal of becoming better Christians on and off of the soccer field.

This past year the team ended with a record of 2-9-1, which is on the uphill of a few seasons ago when the team was stuck with no wins. Though it is an uphill battle, the MCC Women's soccer team continues to fight for wins, and in turn are winning the hearts here at MCC.

A glimpse of greatness is the fact that the women's team played against three Division II teams this year and ended with a 2-1 record against those schools. That is something of a great accomplishment and we are looking forward to what these ladies will do in the future.

It was a great year for the Men's Soccer team. This year they were Conference Champions, Regional Champions, and National Champions. They won Conference beating Ozark Christian College 5-2. They won Regionals with a 3-0 win over Central Bible College and they ended the season with a 2-0 win against Cincinnati Christian University to claim the title of National Champions.

The returning soccer players have been great examples for this team. Seniors Luke Wright, Cory Tubbs, and Dustin Schultz continued to do their work by raising the bar farther than they have ever been. Their Christ-like attitude is definitely something to remember. The team all together is still focused on fulfilling what the true purpose is and that is showing great attitude by giving their all for the glory of God.

We'll be looking forward to having many more successful years for men's soccer and excited about grabbing the first National Championship in a long time.

Zach Michaelis

"Going to Nationals every year is an accomplishment that can never be outweighed."

Cory Tubbs

"Playing on the soccer team at MCC for four years was an experience like none other. I will always remember the memories and good times with the guys."

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

In his first year at MCC, head coach Ben Lister was very successful in leading the women to Nationals, where they placed third. This was the fifth consecutive year being named Regional Champs as well as the fifth year to go to Nationals. With a 27-7 record, the women took first in the conference for the fourth consecutive year, along with winning the conference tournament for a second straight year.

Many member of the team were presented awards: Leslie Smith, All Conference First Team, All Region First Team, and Second Team All-American. Michelle Drummond, All Conference Second Team, All Region Second Team. Susie McGraw was named All Region Honorable Mention and Kelcii Peck was All Conference First Team, All Region First Team, MVP of the Region, and First Team All-American. Scholar Athletes were Tricia Martens, Bethany German, and Leslie Smith. Ben Lister was named Regional Coach of the Year.

The Lady Crusaders rose to the demand of building on past success. The late night practices and conditioning for six weeks taught discipline and hard work. With the maturity of the returning players, the talent of new teammates, and the positive mindset of the coach, the women were able to grow as individuals along with focusing on achieving goals as one team. The Crusaders are determined and preparing for another shot at Nationals.

Kelcii Peck steals and makes a fast break. Abby Cunningham pushes the ball up the floor.

Amanda Clifton shows great concentration as she follows through on her free throw.

Tricia Martens cuts across the lane to catch the pass. She led the team in blocks and had many key rebounds this season.

Leslie Smith focuses on her next move as she calls out the play coming down the floor. Leslie was a great leader throughout the season.

Lindsay Sekoch

"It was an accomplishment getting third at nationals but we are capable and I hope we get first next year."

Rachelle DeShazo

"The best part about this season was all the close relationships and the fact that our team was like a family. This helped everyone on and off the court."

Michelle Drummond

"I used to think basketball was just an individual sport and the Lady Crusaders have taught me otherwise. The past three years have taught me trust, respect, patience, and most importantly, being a witness on the court."

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The men's basketball team finished the season with a 19-14 record, earning respect for their hard work and overcoming adversity. The Crusaders were successful against many teams, namely, beating Mid-America Christian right before Christmas. First week back from break they had seven players come down with the flu but still managed to go undefeated in the Cookson Hills Tournament against St. Louis, Dallas, and Johnson.

Even though they may not have shown it in the games, there were hardships they faced that challenged their teamwork. The men had early morning practice from six to eight a.m. which was wearing mentally and physically. A discouraging blow to the team was when Ryan Klutz injured his knee and could not play for three weeks.

The team stepped up and each person worked hard in fulfilling their role. Although the end of the season was disappointing, the Crusaders had many accomplishments to be proud of: Ryan Klutz was named First Team All-American, and was also the Region MVP. Steve Juhl was First Team All Conference and Second Team All Region. Steve Juhl, Cody Waterman, and Travis Mullens were Scholar Athletes as well. The team took second overall in conference and placed third in the conference tournament. Coach Shawn Condra states, "Our seniors, Cody, Steve, Travis, and Bobby will be missed but we are looking forward to having a strong core coming back and having great opportunity for next year."

Michael Turkovic takes care of the ball and looks for the assist. Aaron Gittenger takes a three over his defender. Coach Condra and Will Gammon talk during a timeout. Chris Drummond fights for the ball after diving on the ground.

Ryan Klutz makes a move and blows by his defender. The team huddles to encourage each other before the game. An important event that took place after each game was a prayer between the two teams.

Steve Juhl

"My most memorable moment was getting up in the middle of the night to throw up alongside my teammates and my coach. It really brought us together as a team. Good times."

Travis Mullins

"Even though there were few of us, the team worked hard and had a good attitude. Next year there will be a strong foundation to build on."

Cody Waterman

"The best part of basketball is all the guys I have had the privilege to play with the last four years, and of course coach!"

BASEBALL

This is the second year of Manhattan Christian College baseball. This year the team was coached by former player, Matt Barnett. Coach Barnett was assisted by Michael Berg and Ray Sanders. This year was an exciting year for the baseball program and for many of the fans as well. They pulled off their first victory this year and won three games total against Haskell Indian Nation University and St. Louis Christian College. The team was able to play over thirty games.

The MCC baseball team was several years ago just a dream, but was made a reality through the encouragement of the athletic department and the hard work of a lot of people. As with any new program there are challenges and this team worked well to overcome those hurdles and work together as a team.

No one could have predicted the success of this non-scholarship school, but this MCC baseball team enjoyed a lot of growth and success. Part of the success was brought on by transfers and incoming freshmen that pumped up the team with enthusiasm and spunk. The team is really starting to gel and next year... who knows what could happen?

Ray Sanders gives encouragement to the team. Dustin Lampe was one of the pitchers for the year. Casey Guinty played first base and designated hitter, and Houston Cook-McCarter played catcher and right field. Cole McGee was the third baseman.

The team worked hard their second year pulling off three wins. Their first wins came about this year and now have the push to pull more wins next year to improve in the program. The team was able to get a few of their players ranked in certain categories for division 1 schools. With that, they can achieve greater goals in the future and continue to grow better as a team.

ATHLETIC AWARDS

After countless practices, road trips and grueling games, the athletes were honored for their achievements at the Athletic Banquet. The evening is a time for athletes, coaches, support staff, and families to gather together and celebrate the accomplishments of the past year.

MCC was a place of championships and hard work for the athletes. If one thing could be said about the athletic department and its different sports, it is that they did their school, their fellow students, faculty, and God proud.

During the evening each coach looked back at their season and had the opportunity to share memories about the year and present three of their players with these awards:

Athletic Award of Excellence, Most Valuable Player, and Christian Athlete.

The Athletic Banquet was a great event because it showed how much success was experienced by all those that were involved with athletics.

God has truly put a spot for athletics in our lives here at MCC and this banquet was the culmination of another great year of sports for MCC, its students, and its faculty, but most of all, the One we serve.

A Women's Basketball award is received. Some of the volleyball players pose with Coach Sanders. Chad Hannagan and Garett McHugh are excited about the night to come. Joel Sholin loves chocolate.

An overall good night was expressed through heartfelt awards given, as well as great accomplishments shown by all athletic teams.
